It Was An Honor to Recognize Our First Responders

Jefferson County District Attorney Brandon Falls was the keynote speaker at the annual First Responders Luncheon held on March 3rd at Lawson State Bessemer Campus. The DA addressed the skill and sacrifice each of our first responders exercise in their chosen profession whether it be as a law enforcement officer or fire fighter. It was a great meeting. Bob Sykes BBQ provided the meal and our Ambassadors welcomed all.

This year's recipients were: Fire Fighter of the Year-Todd Eddy, Law Enforcement Officer of the Year-Roy Harris, and Sheriff's Deputy of the Year-Brad Dickey. Recognizing the recipients were Bessemer Fire Chief Paul Syx, Bessemer Police Chief Nathaniel Rutledge, and Bessemer Cutoff Sheriff's Department Major Paul Logan. Mayor Kenneth Gulley also presented a special recognition to each officer with a sincere thank you from the citizens not only in Bessemer but all of western Jefferson County. DA Falls assisted the presenters in there outstanding presentations.

Expressing thanks from the Bessemer Business Community was Chamber President Ronnie Acker mentioning the great sacrifice of the officers in protecting and defending each of us. He also said,

"The Bessemer Business community wants to recognize the great sacrifice of these brave men and women's families. They have concern each time their loved one goes to work. We sincerely appreciate and thank you for your loved one's courage and professionalism."

The Bessemer Chamber encourages our membership and citizens to thank our first responders at every opportunity. Also, always remember our brave men and women in our Armed Forces. We are blessed as a nation to have such dedicated and valiant neighbors defending us.

50 Years & Going Strong

Fifty years definitely holds a lot of history for our country and around the world. Fifty years ago John F. Kennedy succeeded Dwight Eisenhower as the 35th President of the United States of America. The Beatles performed for the first time at the Cavern Club. Princess Diana was born. The construction of the Berlin Wall began. Babe Ruth's 34-year-old record was finally broken. Also in 1961, Charlie Brown of Hueytown founded BROWN Heating & Cooling and thanks to you BROWN is now celebrating 50 years of service in the Birmingham area! During those 50 years, BROWN has contributed to the success of countless well known businesses in our community as well as serving residential customers.

BROWN began as a small residential service business, but in 1984 Johnny White purchased the business and grew it with honesty, integrity, and superior service. White used his background in design to create some of the most innovative heating and cooling systems for churches, schools, hospitals, car dealerships, civic centers, and many other businesses. Word spread that White had one of the best fabrication shops around which included a computerized plasma cutting machine. White doubled the square footage of his building and began doing custom stainless steel jobs for restaurants, replacing the brushed stainless with mirrored stainless in elevators, and did extensive work for Children's Hospital. White even did some custom work for George Barber at Barber Motorsports museum. One of the projects White is most proud to have been involved in was the renovation of The Cathedral of St. Paul in downtown Birmingham. The church was constructed just a few years after the Civil War. So, needless to say, they didn't want just anybody working on this historical landmark. The leadership of St. Paul's Cathedral called their Trane distributor for a recommendation. Trane said that there was only one person who was meticulous enough for this job, and that was Johnny White with BROWN Heating and Cooling. BROWN still enjoys a strong relationship with The Cathedral of St. Paul today.

When asked what has been the driving force behind his business, White references his faith and building the business according to Biblical principles. Through the years White always knew and instilled in his service technicians the value of a job done with excellence. Today BROWN Heating and Cooling continues to strive for excellence in serving its commercial and residential customers. White and all his staff extend their thanks for the opportunity to serve Birmingham for 50 years and look forward to many more years of service.

House Passes HB 61-Victory for Small Businesses

By a vote of 83-6, the House passed HB 61, by Rep. April Weaver, R-Brierfield, which allows qualifying employers and employees to deduct from their state income tax an additional 50 percent of the amount spent on health insurance premiums. Qualifying employers are those with less than 25 employees, and the qualifying employees are those whose annual wages do not exceed $50,000.

The bill would help the smallest, most vulnerable, yet essential employers provide health coverage to their employees. The measure is considered an incentive for job creation and a way to reduce the number of citizens who otherwise would be added to the State's Medicaid and CHIP (Children's Health Insurance Plan) rolls.

If enacted, this measure would increase the 150 percent deduction, achieved during the 2008 legislative session, up to a deduction of 200 percent of qualifying premium payments. HB 61 has been assigned to the Senate Job Creation and Economic Development Committee, while its companion bill, SB 159, by Sen. Greg Reed, R-Jasper, received a favorable report from the Senate Health Committee this week. This bill is a top-tier item on BCA's 2011 Legislative Agenda. [Taken from www.bcatoday.org]

It's Your Business

By: Ronnie Acker, President

As business men and women we need to be especially mindful of the lessons we have learned and then to act upon those lessons. Reminds me of a lesson I learned while playing junior high football at Bessemer Jr. High (now Davis Middle School). It was my privilege to play for a Coach who not only taught us football but taught us how to get along in life. Coach James "Red" Howell was someone I will always remember.

In my last year of playing for Coach Howell there was a rule change affecting just the punting of the football. I really don't remember now the exact change since it has changed several times since then. However, Coach Howell drilled the change into our minds making sure we understood its effects on the game. I listened but really did not think it would matter.

In a game that was both close in score and competitiveness the opposing team as I remember led near the end of the game 6-2, with us only able to score a safety. The punt was made and while the opposing team surrounded the punt no one picked it up and no whistle sounded. It then occurred to me that Coach Howell had taught us about this situation, he had drilled it into us. All we needed to do was act. Well I remembered his lesson, pick up the ball it is still live. I acted for whatever reason picking it up and ran the ball 25-30 yards into the end zone. I turned to see the referee signal touchdown. The opposing players stood in disbelief around the spot where the ball once was, and our team was looking on wondering what had I done.

Turning around I saw the opposing Coach running and screaming down the sidelines, throwing his hat and coat, and yelling, "NO! NO! NO!" but in more graphic terms. Coach Howell was jumping up and down yelling, "YES! YES! YES!" or words to that effect. We won the game 8-6. And the reason was someone acted on a lesson that was taught. I wasn't the best player on the field nor the best athlete, but I was the one that acted on my knowledge.

You as a business man or woman must not only learn the lessons of your business you must be ready to act upon them. Your competitors will be standing in disbelief as your business moves to the goal line passing them by. Your employees will be wondering how you knew to do that. The opposing competitor's "Coach" will be yelling words we cannot write and your "Coach" will be loving you for the rest of his life because you acted.

Coach Red Howell will always live in my mind and heart because he taught me to act. You need to always remember that education, knowledge, learning, experience are all needful in the business world. The thing that is most important is to know when to apply them, when to act. When in doubt do something.
